Overview

- Ukrainian is written with the Cyrillic alphabet.
- It is composed of 32 letters plus an additional sign to indicate palatalization.
- It is based on the Greek script.

Morphemes

Uninflected words consist of one or more morphemes.

na 'on'

na-v-kol-o 'around'

Inflected words contain two or more morphemes, although the last morpheme may be a phonetic zero.

kit- 'cat'

vesn-a 'spring',

vy-kon-av-ets'- 'executor'

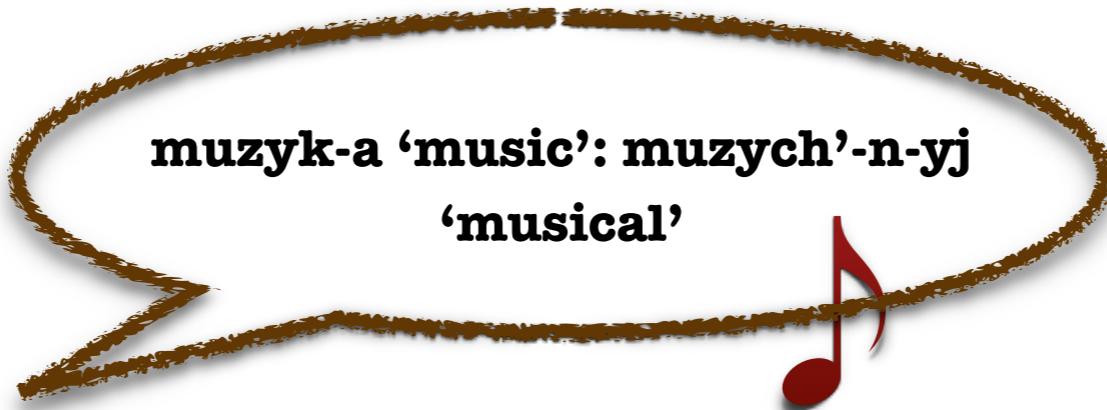

Often suffix determines where the stress occurs and its movement.

The suffix -ar, for example, identifies the word as a masculine noun with a zero ending in the nominative singular having the so-called soft type of declension lik-ar [gen-likar'a] 'physician'

Morphemes

Quite a few suffixes require certain phonetic changes in the preceding phoneme, most often in the root.

muzyk-a ‘music’: muzych’-n-yj ‘musical’

Fusion of consonants on the boundary of a morpheme with the succeeding suffix.

rob-it-nyk ‘worker’ + the collective suffix -stv-(o)—robitny-tstv-o

As a result of these peculiarities, morphemes in Ukrainian appear not only in their ‘regular’ form, but also as a set of relationships based on that form.

In Ukrainian, there are four noun declension types:

feminine ending in a consonant

There are hard and soft subgroups; when the hard subtype ends in ‘o’ or ‘y’, the soft subtype substitutes them by ‘e’ and ‘i’ respectively.

- I. masculine, hard and soft
- II. neuter, hard and soft
- III. feminine in a vowel, hard and soft
- IV. feminine in a consonant, hard only

Syntax

- * Word order is quite free, the different cases being enough in most circumstances to clarify meaning.

Зробила домашнє задання = Я зробила сьогодні домашнє завдання.

Сьогодні дуже гарна погода.

Ти підеш зі мною до магазину?

Як ти спромоглася таке подумати?

- * Nevertheless, clause structure is basically Subject-Verb-Object.

- * There are no articles and the copula (verb 'to be') is omitted in the present tense.

- * Adjectives precede their nouns and agree with them in gender, number and case.
